

How Can you Help!

With so many families and persons going hungry in our neighborhood communities and around the world, you can now, continue, to make a difference! Lets continue to eradicate hunger in our neighborhoods and communities around the world. Come along side our non profit and help us start a

Community Second Hand and Traditional Merchandise Retail store

(Retail Store) that will help in funding our Drought/Weather

Resistant Community Farming initiatives. This Community, 21st century Retail store, will embrace networking, community talents and high end and reused merchandise, while also generating funding to support the development of the Drought/Weather Resistant Community Farming initiative. Be the Helping Hands UP to support at risk communities, in hunger, through caring and giving Community

Farming initiatives.

What is the need and helping solution!

One of the most important acts of the day, that will give us all great peace, is the ability to be able to have a good nutritional meal or meal(s), but we know millions go hungry, each day, and many go hungry right in our own neighborhoods and communities.

Please help our non profit eradicate hunger, one community at a time, and come along side our non profit and help us share with communities the joy or eating nutritional meals each day!

The Drought/Weather Resistant Community Farming initiatives will engage communities to take ownership of a community farm that promotes, hands on community farming partnerships, so families and persons take farming ownership and learn and become educated in running a farm, which will provide these hungry communities access to nutritional meals, on a daily basis, along with providing great life skills that will take these at risk commu-

HAVE YOU HEAR OF VERTICAL FARMING?

A Vertical farm is a climbing up of nature's farming technologies, which allows for the development of vertical farms to produce not only a more drought/weather resistant produce, but these vertical farms will also allow for earlier economic phases for at risk communities. This phased approach makes the leap from planting to actual harvesting far more economical.

Our shared communities "Vertical" farming plans are to enhance the age old farming methods along with enhancing and yielding costs savings, for community funding growth, for our at risk/hungry communities. We understand strong community involvement will result in vertical farming buy in, and our non profit understands community participation will reduce farming costs risks along with reducing production costs, so at risk families can receive much more of the cost benefits from the farm's harvest.
